

News Release

Phil Neely Joins June Consulting Group

Industry founder to expand services and client relations

(January 12, 2010 -- Houston, TX) June Consulting Group, the leading woman-owned company specializing in corporate legal technology, announced today that it has hired Phil Neely, a 25-year legal technology and services veteran. Neely's role will be to deepen the level of June's engagement with clients and vendor partners; strengthen client intimacy within every project; and boost the overall growth of the company.

According to Louann Barnett, President of June Consulting Group, "We are delighted to bring Phil on board. With more than two decades of experience in legal services and technology, Phil Neely is renowned in the industry for his focus on client intimacy and relationships as the cornerstone for successful projects. His efforts have fostered significant partnerships with Fortune 100 companies that have endured for many years. He is the perfect fit for June Consulting Group as we continue to expand our reach while remaining true to our core values of client satisfaction and technology leadership."

Neely's experience encompasses legal operations within the pharmaceutical, automotive, consumer products and energy sectors. Prior to joining June, he held roles as Vice President of Corporate Outcomes and Vice President of Client Relations at Bridgeway Software. As co-founder of Simpson Neely Group, he developed methodologies to support many Fortune 500 clients as they selected, designed, implemented and optimized technology solutions.

About June Consulting Group

June Consulting Group is a certified (WBENC) woman-owned firm specializing in legal technology consulting for corporate legal departments throughout the United States. June consultants have direct experience within the legal operations of Fortune 500 corporations and have extensive industry expertise in all aspects of legal technology. Ongoing relationships and consistent client satisfaction are the hallmarks of June Consulting Group. Armed with a sound understanding of best practices and technical knowledge, June consultants are known for the ability to troubleshoot complicated projects and bring them to a successful conclusion. June Consulting Group is based in Houston, Texas. More information is available at www.Junecg.com.

XXX

Media contact:
Phil Neely
972.788.9469
pneely@junecg.com